CHS9006W

Most of the time, people get more frustrated than delighted of having a supposedly competent rangehood that promises to suck all the oil and smoke from cooking. To put you out of misery, Fotile's stylish new CHS9006W hood literally extracts this problem.

The 3D Ionized Air Curtain technology acts as an invisible wall to imprison the nasty oil and smoke from escaping as well as to generate anion for air purification. This is in preparation for the patented clean and clear filter to come into play. Adopting the theory of aerodynamics, the clean and clear filter efficiently filters 92.2 percent of oil and reduces odour by up to 98.3 percent, leaving little to no residue behind.

Further making cooking and cleaning more enjoyable, the Lotus Oleophobic coating (just like a lotus plant's hydrophobic surface) on the surface of the hood is dust-resistant and leaves no trace marks. The delay off function that allows the fan to run for two minutes more before it automatically switches off is another great feature that ensures residual smoke to be fully extracted. Embedded with LED light, energy saving components and touch control panel, this innovative hood is a great addition to any kitchen. ❖
